

Pete and Ali invite you to a weekend celebrating 125 years of love, peace and happiness.

$51 + 51 + 13 + 10 = 125$

29th & 30th July at Cheverton Farm in the Isle of Wight
Come and camp for the weekend and wear something purple.

Turn up, tune in, drop off....

NEVER TRUST
A HIPPY

Bring your entire family for a weekend of fun in the sun on Saturday 29th and Sunday 30th July 2017. You can arrive the day before and stay for the whole week after if you fancy it.
It's at Cheverton Farm, Shorwell, Newport, Isle of Wight.

We'll have a big knees up on the Saturday with grub and some booze (it'd be great if you can bring a bottle) and maybe some dancing and are delighted to announce the band Goon Squad fronted by your very own Steve North.
Don't forget to wear something purple!

Then Sunday we'll have a BBQ and fun and games on the farm. Bring your own shotgun.

Just supply a tent/car/caravan or winnebago and anything you need to keep warm as the party is in a big tent on the top of a big hill with a big fire with a big view. There will be loos on site and a shower at the farm or book yourself accommodation if you prefer.

The farm is great for: cycling (there's a mountain bike trail) walking and there's an indoor pool so bring your swimmers.

By car: ferry crossings are Portsmouth to Fishbourne, Southampton to East Cowes or Lymington to Yarmouth.

By train: ferries from Portsmouth to Ryde or Southampton to West Cowes.

We can arrange to pick anyone up at Ryde
Pier at 2:00pm on Saturday. Let us know.
