Change In Class Times to Begin on the Half Hour – Weekdays 3pm Onwards – Starting August 2018

Dear Parents,

To give you a heads up and plenty of time for planning and adjustment, we would like to inform you that all Centre Stage afternoon Classes, that currently take place during the week, Monday – Friday from 3pm onwards will begin on the half hour starting from August 2018.

There is perhaps one exception to this, but that will be highlighted and indicated specifically to that particular class.

Please note this change does not affect Saturday classes, they remain the same start time.

As our academic year runs according to European School Calendars, August to July, there are often changes to the timetable at the end of each academic year – so the changes below to the half hour are the planned changes to our timetable as it currently stands.

Please see current planned changes to you class time for August 2018 below:
