Saturday Afternoon Singing Classes

Dear Parents & Students,

We hope you all had a great break and enjoyed all the festivities with friends and family in the holiday season?

As you all know Jean our singing teacher had to move back to the US and so we have been looking for the right teacher to join us to teach these classes.

We are delighted that Cindy is taking over these classes. Cindy worked with Centre stage previously as a Musical Theatre Teacher for several years, before leaving in 2014 to return to working professionally as a singer and performer in New York. There she also continued her own personal development, training further as a Musical Theatre performer also studying in New York.

We feel Cindy will be the perfect match for these classes, having the right balance of professional performance skills and qualifications, together with a passion for Singing & Musical Theatre and working with children, as well as understanding the Centre Stage ethos our aims and objectives overall and for this course. Cindy is also a phenomenal singer herself – as you may have witnessed her as one of the ‘Seaweed Sisters’ in our Christmas show at MBS - Corporal Crumbles Christmas Crisis! 😊

If you have any questions regarding this, please don’t hesitate to contact us.

Currently, I am sick in bed with cold/flu bug, which will not shift! And Pete has broken his ankle – but is in school! 2019 can only get better! 😊 However, we are both happy to chat anything over with you if necessary.

Very best wishes

Alison & Pete
